FRENCH-ENGLISH.

Another Skirmish Reported from the West African Coast.

Paris, Feb. 14.—The government version of the second fight between the French and English forces in western Africa near the Sierra Leone frontier says that the trouble was due to the English invading French territory and attacking a village close to the French post of Benty. The French defended the village and repulsed the attacking party. The government has received no report from Warion, but it is believed that the English tried to forcibly invade French territory.

Advices received in London in regard to this latest trouble between the French and English were to the effect that a detachment of British military police, who were encamped in the Sofia country, had been fired upon by a French force. The British returned the fire, killing six of the French force.

THE KEARSARGE CREW.

All Rescued in Good Health From the Roncador Reef.

Colon, Feb. 14.—The Pacific mail steamer City of Para, which was chartered by the United States government to take off of Roncador Reef the crew of the cruiser Kearsarge which was wrecked there, and bring them to this port, sailed for New York this afternoon at 2 o'clock. She has on board the officers and crew of the Kearsarge, all of whom are in good health.

Oregon Bimetallists.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 14.—Steps have been taken towards the organization of a branch of the National Bimetallic league. At a meeting of a number of prominent men declarations of principles were read and arrangements were made for a mass meeting Friday night. The declaration pledges the members to favor free coinage on the basis of equality with gold at 16 to 1 ratio.

Deep Snows in the Panhandle.

Denver, Feb. 14.—Cattlemen arriving from Texas via the Fort Worth railroad report very deep snows and extremely cold weather all through the Panhandle country and they state that the loss of stock will be the worst ever known there. The country has been heavily stocked with range herds and thousands will die before the snow can melt.

Colorado's Coal Product.

Denver, Feb. 14. Coal-Mine-Inspector Reed has complied his annual report of the coal output, showing a production of 3,917,056 tons, an increase of 175,832 tons over the previous year.

Higher cables from London and a disposition to cover short contracts on the part of the local operators led to a firm market during the early hours of business at the stock exchange. The market left off tolerably firm and anywhere from ⅛ to ¾ per cent. higher than on yesterday.

The railway and miscellaneous bonds were dull and strong. The sales amounted to $816,000.

Frank Daniels in "Little Puck."

That rarely quaint comedian, Mr. Frank Daniels, who in the matter of originality is without an equal on the American stage, will come to the opera house next Monday and Tuesday evening. On the occasion of his forthcoming visit, the comedian will present to the laughter-loving people of Colorado Springs, a new version of that furiously funny farce, "Little Puck." Frank Daniels is a satire on comedians—a player whose delicious methods lift him so far above comparison in his own line that he may be said to be without a follower. Mr. Daniels' former appearance in this city need not be further alluded to than to say that "Little Puck," as he is now presenting it, is immensely superior to any former presentation of this former skit. Moreover, "Little Puck" has been literally crammed full of the latest musical hits, both of this country and Europe. Bessie Sanson, who has been associated with Mr. Daniels for several seasons past, will sing "Marguerite of Monte Carlo," the latest London coster-monger songs, made famous by Chevalier. Frank Daniels was the first to introduce these caricatures of the coster on this side of the water, and does so by special permission from Chevalier, they having become great friends during Daniels's last European tour.

The trial of the eight Cripple Creek miners, charged with riot, came on in the County court yesterday, Judge Harris presiding. The result was the acquittal of the men. Mr. J. R. Crowell defended and District Attorney Cochran prosecuted. A jury of twelve heard the case and after hearing the evidence was out only fifteen minutes. There was very little evidence against the men. Lock, the man who was run out of camp, was on the witness stand and kept true to his promise to the men. He told the story of how he was run out of camp but said that of all his assailants he only recognized one and that he was not one of the accused.

The Senators Propose Radical Changes in the Wilson Bill.

CONGRESSIONAL PATCHWORK.

Concessions to the Coal, Wool and Lead Interests—New England Manufacturers Protests—The House Against Any Changes.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The report that the Senate Finance committee purposes restoring the duty on coal to some extent, has had a disquieting effect in New England and the East. Mr. John E. Russell, the late Democratic candidate for the Governorship of Massachusetts, came to Washington yesterday and had a conference with a Senator from one of the large coal producing States of the South, and informed this gentleman that it would be unfair to New England manufacturers to reduce duties on their products without giving some compensation in the way of free coal.

The Senator replied that the Democrats could not afford to pass the bill through the Senate leaving coal on the free list. He said that not only did the re-election of Chairman Wilson of the Ways and Means committee depend upon restoring the duty in part, but that it would be impossible for the Democrats to elect a successor to Mr. Camden, whose term expires next fourth of March. He informed Mr. Russell that the eastern manufacturers already have an ample protection, and stated that a duty of 50c. a ton would be placed on coal.

The reports in circulation that the Senate proposes changing the Wilson bill in many particulars is not at all gratifying to the Democratic members of the House. One of the members of the Ways and Means committee said this morning in reference to these reports: "The House will not stand any monkeying with the Wilson bill. It represents the sentiment of the Democrats of the country. We will not agree to a duty of 50c on coal or iron ore. We might stand 25c a ton, but we would rather leave both articles where they are—on the free list. It is also reported that wool may again be placed on the dutiable list. Under no circumstances will the House agree to this. We will have free wool or no bill. The Senate might as well understand that."

The members of the sub committee met this morning with the other Democratic members of the Finance committee, every member being present but Mr. Vance, who is ill. What was done has thus far been kept secret, but it is understood that the main topic of discussion was the sugar schedule. While the majority of the committee expressed themselves as opposed to a tax on sugar, it was demonstrated that such a tax was absolutely essential to secure the passage of the bill or at least to prevent its recommitment.

The western men are feeling very happy over the concessions they claim have been made them in regard to lead and lead ore. The Wilson bill will be materially changed in this respect, that change growing out of a desire on the part of the Democratic silver men to make a return for the cordial support they received from the west and northwest in the fight against the repeal of the Sherman act. Under the Wilson bill lead ore is practically on the free list, the nominal duty of 15 per cent. being put upon it. As the bill will come from the Senate committee it will carry a duty of 1c. a pound, and two provisions in the House bill will be eliminated. One of the provisions thus stricken out admits free all lead ore found in silver ore where the latter shall be of great value; another is retaliation upon any foreign government that shall impose an export duty on lead ore or silver ore containing lead exported to the United States and in that event the duty on pig lead, etc., fit only to be manufactured shall remain as it is under the present law; this retaliatory provision will be stricken out and the duty on pig lead kept as it is in the Wilson bill, at one cent a pound.

The effect of the Senate committee change is, therefore, to put lead of all kinds on the dutiable list at a uniform rate of one cent a pound.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, Feb. 14.—A controversy between some small towns in Oklahoma Territory occupied the time of the Senate during the whole of the day's session. They have been variously described as "mushroom towns" and as "tent towns," and the question is whether the Rock Island Railroad company, whose line runs past them, shall be required by act of Congress to locate and maintain depots and stations at one rather than the other. On the 20th of October last the House of Representatives passed a bill requiring the railroad company to maintain stations and depots at all townsites established by the Interior Department, and the Senate Railroad committee reported back favorably, but against the vote of several of its members. The debate on the bill was not of a very interesting character and it went over without action, till to-morrow when it is hoped by the Senator in charge of it (Mr. Berry, (Dem.) of Arkansas) that it shall be brought to a vote.

The Hawaiian resolution was not taken up to-day, nor is it likely to be to-morrow—notice having been given of a motion to proceed to executive business (on the Peckham nomination) at the close of the morning hour, which will be fully occupied by the Territorial Railroad bill.

The Senate adjourned at 5:05 p. m.

HOUSE.

The seignorage bill was the sole topic of consideration to-day in the House and the only feature of special interest was a tilt between Messrs. Reed (Rep.) of Maine and Bland (Dem.) of Missouri. During the delivery of a speech by Mr. Walker (Rep.) of Massachusetts he was subjected to almost continual interruption, but was assured by his questioners that his time would be extended, which was done after considerable discussion. Mr. Reed then intimated to Mr. Bland that it remained to seen whether he would make anything out of the proceeding, to which Mr. Bland retorted that he understood the gentleman from Maine intended to break a quorum every time there should be an opportunity.

After several acrimonious remarks had been exchanged Mr. Reed suggested that Mr. Bland had better sit down, when Mr. Bland hotly retorted that he would sit down at the request of the chairman, "but not at your request. You have had that opportunity once, and I hope you never will have it again." The chairman twice found it necessary to direct the sergeant-at-arms to seat Mr. Bland, and Mr. Walker was finally allowed to resume his speech.

Speeches were to-day made in favor of the seignorage bill by Messrs. Stone (Dem.) of Kentucky, Bower (Rep.) of California, Sweet (Rep.) of Idaho and Rawlins (Dem.) of Utah, and Messrs. Walker (Rep.) of Massachusetts and Brosius (Rep.) of Pennsylvania spoke against the bill.

At 5:30 the House adjourned.

KNOCKING TO COME IN.

Utah Will Soon be Admitted to the Sisterhood of States.

Washington, February 14.—[Special]—"Utah will unquestionably become a state during this congress and her senators and representative will take their seats next winter," says Delegate Rawlins, and so also say the subcommittee of the senate committee on territories, which now has the matter in charge. All opposition has vanished. All gentiles who were formerly noted as opponents of each successive move for statehood are now advocates of it. Formerly, when the matter was before the house committee, one might find in Washington from five to twenty-five nervously apprehensive lobbyists working against the state of Utah. Now there is not one. The bill for its admission passed the house by a practically unanimous vote, the dissenters not being numerous enough to call for the yeas and nays, and the numbers on division are not recorded. Utah now has more people than either Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, New Hampshire, New Jersey or Rhode Island had at the time of the formation of the Union, nearly as many as South Carolina had, and more than Delaware or any of the newest states has. The bill, it should be remembered, is only an enabling act, but the convention can be elected, the constitution drawn, submitted and adopted, the new state government set in motion and the senators and member elected in time to take their seats next December.

Arizona's Knock.

Arizona, which for a time seemed to be getting along as swimmingly as Utah, or nearly so, is losing ground, and her delegate, Hon. M. A. Smith, shows just at present nothing like the patience or philosophy of the famous Marcus Aurelius, for whom he was named. In the house there were 62 votes against Arizona's admission. In the senate the opposition is much stronger in proportion, and some of those who voted for it in the house confess that they did so with considerable misgivings which have since been increased. Among these is John L. Wilson of Washington, who says:

"The movement to admit all the territories at once was very strong at the opening of congress, and we far western fellows went into it rather actively. There was a feeling of pride in both parties in the idea that this congress was to finally put an end to the territorial system. But while I voted for Arizona I now fear that statehood would be too great a burden for that commonwealth. It has an enormous area, with comparatively few people. I am satisfied that they still lack many of having 100,000 and that the population will not increase rapidly in the near future. Of taxables they only claim $41,000,000, and that is less than the county I live in has. Spokane is a great and rich city, and so that county is at present richer than Arizona, and so far as I can see richer in possibilities for the immediate future. I greatly fear if Arizona should get a state government too soon her people will bitterly repent of their action, and, by the way, this territorial government is not such a bad thing. The fathers did a pretty good job when they organized it for communities yet in their childhood. But a new commonwealth is pretty sure to find statehood a rather expensive toy. As to New Mexico, I am not much more sanguine about that. Delegate Joseph was sick when it should have gone through the house, and the doubts of immediate success are increased."

Botany at Colorado College.

During the last half of the college year, Professor Cragin will conduct at Colorado College a class in Structural and Systematic Botany of the Flowering Plants. The text-books used will be Gray's Elements (Lessons) of Botany, Coulter's Manual of Rocky Mountain Botany, and Apgar's Plant Analysis.

After a preliminary study of the structural data upon which the classification of plants is based, and which will occupy students during the early part of the season—the part least adapted to out-of-door work—collecting, describing, naming, and mounting of plants will be begun. This, calling for much out-of-door exercise, will be a source of health and recreation, as well as of instruction, and will continue through the remainder of the term. It is expected that each student will succeed in forming an herbarium of at least fifty species of plants and some of the more enthusiastic workers will doubtless far exceed this number.

It is hoped that the class will be reinforced by additions from those not now connected with the college as students, but who wish to take up what must ever be one of the most delightful studies to which nature invites in this region.

This class is to be organized at once, and those intending to join it should present themselves at the President's office in Palmer hall, at 11:15 a. m. Thursday or Friday of this week.

Fast Day Abolished.

Boston, Feb. 14.—The House this afternoon, by a vote of 100 to 59, passed the bill abolishing Fast day in this State.

And She Heard His Heart.

"Ah," she murmured as she placed her head against his manly bosom, "how wonderful a piece of mechanism is that which nestles here! It beats, and all is love; its promptings lead us to kindness; its every beat makes the one we love happier. Were it not for its being in the human breast, love could never be!"

"I guess you're right," he said. "You're leaning against my pocketbook!"—Boston Traveller.

Costers and Cabmen.

The costers and cabmen of London have a feud of long standing. Many of the cabmen are Jews, and the costers taunt them about it. The cabmen jeer back, using the costers' loads of onions and turnips as their text. Moreover, the cabmen manage to block the way when the coster carts are coming into market in the morning. Ugly little street affrays are the result. Chicago Tribune.

A LIVELY DAY.

The Colorado Assembly Continues to Have Lots of Fun.

AT SEVEN DOLLARS A DAY.

The Cripple Creek County Bill Reported Adversely—An Excursion to San Francisco is Under Consideration—Question of Pay.

Denver, Feb. 14.—The House members to-day enjoyed their comic valentines sent them by indulgent friends, tabled a resolution fixing Dec. 14 next as a time for adjournment, made a few more inquiries upon the subject of pay for services, decided to let the matter of a constitutional convention lie over until the next regular session and passed the Senate joint resolution which requests the Congressional delegation to try and secure from the government title to the land included in the Twin Lakes district which is set apart as one of the forest reservations of the State. The House then adjourned until to-morrow.

The Senate discussed the Homestead bill amendments and indefinitely postponed both bill and amendments. The Mesa county canal bill was treated likewise. A number of reports were received from the special committee upon House bills. The committee reported at length adversely upon the Cripple Creek county bill. The eight hour bill was passed. This is the first bill to become a law at this extra session. A proposition has been afloat for some time to arrange for a legislative excursion to the Mid-Winter Fair. To-day committees were appointed to obtain rates from the railroads. Senator Israel announced that the Finance committee would be ready to report upon the appropriation bill just as soon as the House notified them when they expected to adjourn and not before.

A sensational rumor was afloat in the House of Representative to-day in connection with the State Treasurer's office and an investigation is likely to be ordered by the House. The rumor is based on the question of interest paid by the banks on the State funds.

DANCED WITH THE COPPERS.

A Big Crowd Enjoyed the Annual Police Charity Ball.

Last night was given the third annual ball of the Colorado Springs police department. As usual it was given for charity and was a huge success. Each of them heretofore has been a success but this was a huge one. The big Durkee hall was not large enough to accommodate the people who wanted to be present and in the early part of the evening there was a jam, showing that our police force is as popular as ever. A good sum will be realized for charity and the money will be given the Aid society and St. Francis hospital.

Marshal Dana and the policemen marched down to the hall at 8 o'clock and the men took their stations for duty. They took turns about doing duty on the streets so that all could have a chance. The arrangements for the ball were very complete. The Opera House orchestra furnished the music, and good music too. The decorations were very handsome. The room was literally filled with evergreen, bunting and flowers. On the west wall an emblem made of the police clubs was suspended, and on the east wall was a large star made of flags. At the south end of the room was a handsome floral and electric piece. It was a large star of cut flowers illuminated by electric lights. It was the joint gift to the police by Bradford's green house and the El Paso Electric company. On the platform with the orchestra a dummy policeman, who was not Captain Gathright's brother as some one suggested, stood guard.

During the evening Little Sara danced for the entertainment of the guests and was assisted by her little brother, who also danced and recited a piece. The dancing was kept up until a late hour as the programme was a long one. The programme cards used were very handsome. Each bore the photograph of Captain Gathright.

Marshal Dana and all the men made every effort to please and entertain the guests, and were successful. The committees in charge were as follows:

Arrangements—Marshal L. C. Dana, Captain J. W. Gathright and Officers Horace Shelby and Henry Cornell.

Reception—Marshal L. C. Dana and Officers Steve Harlan, Thos. Sullivan, R. E. McMillen and James McCabe.

Floor—Captain J. W. Gathright, and Officers Joel Atkinson, C. F. Taylor and R. M. Martin.

All who attended will await impatiently another St. Valentine's day when they can attend another Policeman's charity ball.

Entertainment at the Deaf and Blind School.

On Friday evening next there will be another of the series of entertainments at the school for deaf and blind. To those who have already attended the entertainments that have been given, there is little necessity for solicitation. The universal testimony is that everyone who goes get the full worth of his money. Especial attention is called to the objects of the fund accruing from these entertainments, viz: the replenishing of the pupils' library and the teaching of the blind boys' band. The special features on this occasion will be the "International Flag Drill" and "Posing." These, with pantomimes and music, will afford an enjoyable programme. Admission, 20 cents for adults; 15 cents for children under 12. Time 8 o'clock. Street cars provided.

A dispatch from Boulder to the Denver Times last night says that the citizens of that place are making arrangements for the reception of the excursionists from this city to-morrow. They will be met at the depot by a delegation and escorted to Dudley hall where a banquet will be served. After that President Baker will give a reception to them, and then the band will escort the delegation to the opera house. Mr. Olmstead has arranged for reserving plenty of seats to all who go from here. People who wish to go to Denver have an excellent opportunities to do so to-day as the excursion rate is only $2 for the round trip. This is the Union Pacific's first excursion and people should take the opportunity to go so cheap.

To that end we invite your proxy which we will cast with the 300,000 shares and more of the stock now held by us and our clients.

Very truly yours,
JNO. W. PROUDFIT & Co.

In this connection the following statement has been issued by the board o' directors of the company:

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

To the Stockholders of the Alamo Mining Co:

Whereas, Certain charges having appeared from time to time, not only in the public press but in other public ways implying willful mismanagement and gross irregularities upon the part of the Officers and Directors of the Alamo Mining company, we, the Board of Directors, desiring that the public be informed as to the truth of said statement, beg to submit the following:

After the publication of said charges and statements, we proceeded immediately to have a complete and expert investigation of the company's stock books by a disinterested party.

The detailed report or statement of the accountant, Mr. H. C. Chapman, as submitted and now on file in the office of the company shows, with the exception of a few trivial clerical errors such as are liable to occur to anyone, that the accounts of the secretary, Mr. Q. E. Hicks, are correct and that there has not been any over-issue of stock made by him, nor can we find evidence of any irregularities by him, as charged.

The report does show, however, that there was an over-issue of 5000 shares of stock occurring at a time prior to the incumbency of the present board of directors and officers, and we have made and are now making an effort to have this restored to the company.

This in brief is the finding after a close investigation.

It is the purpose of this statement merely to assure our stockholders and others that the property of the company is still intact and there are no grounds for alarm, nor need there be any grave apprehension of serious loss or damage to them; and insisting that we have neither as officers or individuals done anything to impair the standing of the company or depreciate the value of its stock we earnestly protest against the unjustified reflections which are being made.

We will still further say, that at any time it should have appeared that stockholders, representing a fair proportion of the stock, desired to reorganize the board of directors, we nor either of us would have opposed such action.

Current News.

The Melbourne Argus announces that the total gold output of Victoria during last year was 707,367 ounces, amounting in value to nearly £3,000,000. This yield is 41,000 ounces more than the yield in 1892, and is the largest since 1885.

Broker H. S. Hawks went to camp yesterday on business connected with the Savage lode. This claim, of which he and Mr. James Beshears each have one-third under a bond, adjoins the Elkton, and recently came to the front with a $180 strike.

The Gould company has completed arrangements for a compromise by which the adverse of the Appie Ellen company will be withdrawn. This will leave the Kittie Lane, which is supposed to have the Elkton vein, free and work on it will soon be resumed.

Dr. J. Reed left for Creede yesterday on business for the Ramey Mammoth Mountain company, and will be gone about one week. This company is now working by contract a tunnel which is cutting the Nancy Hanks-Ethel vein.

A mining man of some prominence who returned from camp yesterday bases his opinion that the strike will soon end on the fact that the strikers are running short of provisions. At the beginning, he says, they laid in enough grub to last them until the first of March, and now that the supplies are getting low, the question of a day's length begins to wear a different aspect.

THE DEMOCRATIC HURRY

Every Administration organ in the country is ringing the changes on the White House mandate to pass the tariff bill. It makes no difference, they say, what the provisions of the bill are or may be—the important thing is to get the tariff settled, then business will adjust itself to the changes, uncertainty will be ended and everything will be all right. Such talk is bald nonsense.

The truth of the matter is that the passage of the Wilson bill would settle nothing. Even its friends, its foremost supporters and its responsible author have declared that it is only the "first step in the pathway of reform"—meaning thereby that if they have a majority in the next Congress they will take another hack at the tariff and change it wherever they like.

They will have to change it, for they can't go on issuing bonds indefinitely, without any legal authority, for the payment of current expenses; and this miserable makeshift of a tariff is going to run the country into debt, even with the inquisitorial income tax, at the rate of $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year, so that the first duty of the new Congress will be to provide for the deficiency.

On the other hand, if, as now seems almost certain, the Republicans get a majority in the Fifty fourth Congress, they will at once bring in a bill to restore duties to a revenue and protective basis, so that in either case, the tariff will not and cannot be "settled" by the passage of the Wilson bill.

It is not a pleasant thing for merchants and manufacturers and wage workers to look forward to three years more of tariff agitation, but it can't be helped. It could have been helped in 1892 by electing a Republican President or a Republican Congress or both, but there is no use in crying over spilt milk. The tariff is going to remain unsettled until March 4, 1895, and the practical question is whether it had better be reduced now, with the certainty of continued tinkering, or whether the proposed reduction should be fought now and until the elections of 1894 bring in a Republican Congress. If that happens, the question will be settled indeed; but if the Democrats succeed next fall, the agitation will continue at least until 1897. To us the wisest course seems to be to fight the bill now, by every possible means, and prevent its passage until November. We can stand an agitation until that time better than a cut now and a tinkering for four years more.

SILVER GAINING FRIENDS.

In the last issue of The Railway World we find the following editorial:

"Free coinage is, at least in the Eastern States, an unpopular idea. The advocates of bimetallism, however, are numerous. Boston has lately witnessed a meeting of persons bent on promoting an international bimetallic movement. It will be seen that the committee is thoroughly representative.

"What is true of Boston is probably true of the rest of the seaboard. Here in Philadelphia a number of manufacturers are strongly in favor of an increased use of silver. The repeal of a law compelling this government to buy unavailable white metal does not prove that a movement for bimetallic coinage the world over is destined to fail. The tariff discussion in the Senate may bring forward other economic themes, and it is by no means impossible that another silver controversy is among the events of the year. Sensible men of both parties discuss the silver question without threatening to wade in blood to the horses' bridles.

This is significant as showing the growth of bimetallic sentiment in the east. The Boston meeting appointed a committee which contains, among others, the names of E. Benjamin Andrews, chairman; Charles H. Allen, Alexander Agassiz, Oliver Ames (second), Francis Bartlett, Charles P. Bowditch, Edward I. Browne, Robert Codman, Charles U. Cotting, William W. Crapo, John Cummings, John M. Forbes, William H. Forbes, Edward D. Hayden, Francis L. Higginson, George F. Hoar, F. W. Hunnewell, Jonathan A. Lane, Thomas L. Livermore, Henry Cabot Lodge, John D. Long, Charles L. Lovering, Augustus Lowell, Francis C. Lowell, William Minot, jr, Francis A. Osborn, Charles H. Paine, Charles E. Perkins, Thomas E. Proctor, Joshua Quincy, Alexander H. Rice, Geo. B. Richards, John E. Russell, Wm. E. Russell, Quincy A. Shaw, Frederick J. Stimson, Nathaniel Thayer, Francis A. Walker; Brooks Adams, secretary.

It will be seen that on this list are the names of the present leaders of both parties—Senators Hoar and Lodge, W. W. Crapo and John D. Long among Republicans, and the Russells and Josiah Quincy among the Democrats. These are encouraging signs.

Mr. John E. Milholland is stirring up a great rumpus in New York City with his "anti-machine" organization, and we are glad of it. The old New York Republican machine was pretty thoroughly discredited, and it was time for a new one. Curiously enough, it is the Union League club which appears as the heir or assignee of Jakey Patterson, Johnny Reisenweber and the rest of the old district leaders, while Mr. Thomas C. Platt endorses the "anti-machine" movement. We don't think the row will do any harm, whichever comes out ahead. New York City Republicans needed waking up very badly, and if John Milholland can wake 'em, more power to him.

The results of the town meeting elections held on Tuesday in New York go to show that last fall's vote was only the beginning of the landslide. It is an old adage in York State that as the town meetings go in the spring so the State goes in the fall. If it proves true this time, there won't be a Democrat elected from Lake Erie to Montauk Point except a few in New York City.

It is a significant indication of what is coming in the South, when such a pronounced Democratic newspaper as the San Antonio Express says: "No West Texas Congressman who voted for free wool will ever see the National Capitol again except at his own expense." How about the Colorado Congressmen who voted for free wool and free lead?

Only twenty-eight more days are left for registry before the spring election. Is your name on the lists? If not, see that it is put there as soon as possible.

The Natural History of the Cuckoo.

There are forty varieties of the cuckoo, or Cuculus, exclusive of the Cuculus Congressionalis, but they do not appear to be represented in the Poultry and Pigeon show now in progress at the Madison Square Garden. The use of the word "cuckoo" as a designation of political reproach is traceable to Captain Boutelle, the free-spoken Maine mariner, and was applied by him in Congress, in nautical sportiveness, to an up State New York member whose partiality for the policies enunciated by President Cleveland has generally been observed to be of the automatic order; defence and extolment always on tap, and no questions asked. The addition of this apt and expressive noun to the political vocabulary of "Mugwump," "stalwart," "half-breed," "doughface," "tenderfoot," "barnburner," "dark horse," "copperhead," "hunker," "moonshiner," "featherhead," "long roller," "roorbach," and "rag baby," is not enfolded in mystery or uncertainty. It is in use only about three weeks, but has attained already a general popularity.

This Maine Republican desired to get a hearing for his resolution of censure on the Cleveland policy of infamy against free institutions in Hawaii. There was an objection. A single objection was sufficient to shut off distasteful inquiry into a subject so generally repugnant to Democratic members. Mr. Boutelle's resolution was temporarily met by an objection from a New York member, notoriously partial to Mr. Cleveland's peculiar policy; and Mr. Boutelle, in a spirit of levity, strongly suggestive of tarpaulin, belaying pin and marlinespike, inquired if the White House clock had struck that morning.

Such was the origin of the expression "cuckoo," but it has fastened itself by force of appropriateness to the special defenders of unwise, unpatriotic, un-Democratic White House policies under the present administration, mistakenly saluted on March 4, 1893, as the harbinger of an era of general good feeling. Up to date, however, the good feeling has been pretty generally monopolized, candor compels the admission, by our Republican friends. Very little appears to be left for Democrats.—[New York Sun.

Protect All or None.

It is proposed by the advocates of free trade to reduce the revenue of the government by $75,000,000 by lowering the barriers between the cheap labor of Europe and the well paid labor of the United States. Labor has made America and owns it. Any changes in our fiscal policy should be made with a view to protecting and stimulating the labor of this country.

The removal of $75,000,000 of customs duties would have an opposite effect. It cannot be done without reducing the wages of labor to the low level of foreign wages, and without the destruction of flourishing industries, which now give plenty and comfort to millions of households. It would make the millions of men now employed in the manufactories competing producers instead of buyers of food and thus bring ruin upon our farmers.

The American policy of protection must either be sustained or abolished. There can be no compromise. A part of the protective labor of the country cannot be selected for destruction and a part left. The policy which has protected our metal industries and given us cheap iron and steel and thus established textile mills and given us cheap clothing has likewise developed our mines and increased our flocks. It has also, in the words of Jefferson, "placed manufacture by the side of our farmers and given them the incalculable benefits of home markets."

Transfer the mining of coal to Nova Scotia and of iron away to Spain and Cuba, and hundreds of thousands of American miners would be compelled to crowd into other occupations or starve. Under protection the output of all our products has largely increased, and the price of our product has been greatly cheapened.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

Plucky.

Murgatroyd—Binkerton is one of the most courageous men I know.

Pilgarlic—Shouldn't have thought he was particularly plucky. What did he ever do that showed courage?

Murgatroyd—Why, the other day he passed a group of boys who were throwing snowballs, and he walked right on and never once looked around.—Puck.

Experience.

Miss Jumpuppe (to Ellerton, who is taking her out for a ride, and whose horse has turned around and refused to move)—Don't be annoyed, Mr. Ellerton. Have patience, and he will move on presently.

Mr. Ellerton—Patience, Miss Jumpuppe! Why, I am paying for this animal by the hour.—Vogue.

A Few Profit, Thousands Suffer.

Virginia is learning that, while free coal may benefit W. C. Whitney and other administration favorites, it means the freezing out of employment thousands of her hardworking miners.—Philadelphia Press.

DURING hard times consumers cannot afford to experiment with inferior, cheap brands of baking powder. It is NOW that the great strength and purity of the ROYAL stand out as a friend in need to those who desire to practise Economy in the Kitchen. Each spoonful does its perfect work. Its increasing sale bears witness that it is a necessity to the prudent—it goes further.

N. B. Grocers say that every dollar invested in Royal Baking Powder is worth a dollar the world over, that it does not consume their capital in dead stock, because it is the great favorite, and sells through all times and seasons.
